Beneath a lotus pool, floating above treetops and Bali's sacred Ayung River, discover a special vacation in the heart of the jungle. Enjoy the eastern secret Spa magic and the eclectic dining at the breathtaking valley's edge.

The Hotel was built around a rice paddy, and villas come with private plunge pools. The hotel's Jati (Bahasa for teak) Bar is perched on the edge of the Ayung River and an excellent place for a sunset cocktail. The Resort's 18 suites and 42 villas offer the ultimate in privacy and comfort — a tropical haven set in the lush Ayung River valley. Guest accommodations reflect the exotic surroundings, featuring Indonesian furnishings and local handmade fabrics. The Resort's design has open staircases, many water features and drops to the Ayung River, so it isn't appropriate for children (age 10 and under).

{jumi [includes/googleads.php]} Situated on a hillside, the Resort also has many steps, and therefore is not recommended for guests with physical challenges. However, electrically powered carts are available 24 hours a day to chauffeur guests around the Resort. At Four Seasons, you enjoy a unique vantage point from which to explore the sights, sounds and experiences around you. There are many galleries, nature parks, and golf courses within about an hour or less of drive from the Resort. For luxurious solitude and a once in a lifetime experience, try the Four Seasons Resort Bali at Sayan, starting at $700.00 per night! SOURCE : Link
